REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record do not teach or suggest, in the claimed combination thereof, a accessory device for a manual motor starter, the accessory device comprising: a case forming an outer appearance of the accessory device; a remotely switchable trip coil section installed in the case and including a remotely switchable trip coil for generating magnetic flux depending on remotely switchable electric source voltage applied thereto, a second fixed core for generating attracting force when the second fixed core is magnetized by magnetic flux generated from the remotely switchable trip coil, and a first movable core having a rod portion extending downward and movable in a downward direction when attracting force is applied thereto from the second fixed core; a under-voltage trip power source terminal electrically connected to the under-voltage trip coil so as to apply the voltage to the under-voltage trip coil; and a second movable core for separating from the first fixed core in a downward direction when under-voltage is applied thereto through the under-voltage trip power source terminal and for downwardly rotating pressed by the rod portion of the first movable core when the remotely switchable electric source voltage is applied to the remotely switchable trip coil through the remotely switchable trip power source terminal.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
